

Hello and welcome! Today's bonus content is the audio of our #Ask The Once And Future Nerd livestream that we did a couple weeks ago on YouTube. The video is still up if you want to watch it, but the audio you're about to hear has been cleaned up and lightly edited. It was a fun conversation as always, and I hope you're able to join us live for the next one.

But before we get into it, I want to tell you about Tab for a Cause. Tab for a Cause is a browser extension that lets you raise money for charity while doing your normal - Or abnormal! - thing online. Whenever you open a new tab, which if you're like me is about a bazillion times per day, you'll see a beautiful photo and a small ad. And then part of the money raised by that ad goes towards a charity of your choice! You can join our Tab for a Cause team by signing up at tabforacause.org/toafn.

Also, I want to thank our Patrons on Patreon who make this show possible. You can sign up at Patreon.com/onceandfuturenerd for lots of cool rewards including getting your questions prioritized for our future Q&A episodes.

We said this during the stream as well, but we're planning on one more bonus episode at some point in November, and then we're gonna take December off for the holidays, and then we'll be back on the last Sunday of January with the premiere of Book 2 Chapter 9.

With all that being said...onto the episode

Hey Christian from the future here, jumping in to tell you about Clockworks Academy. Clockworks Academy offers online courses in all the nerdiest literature. There's no homework except reading and flexible time requirements. Clockworks Academy is college-level insight without college-level cost. Our listeners can get 10% off any purchase with code `futurenerd` - one word. That's Clockworks Academy dot com, code future nerd.