

Hello everyone and welcome back to the Once And Future Nerd!

Before today's episode...

I want to tell you about Shaker & Spoon.

Do you want a cost effective but classy way to wash down some one alarm rancher's stew? Or maybe you just want a little social lubrication while you're in a new unfamiliar place and need to figure out how to pit two rival gangs against each other for your own material gain. Well Shaker & Spoon is a subscription cocktail service that helps you learn how to make hand-crafted cocktails. Every box comes with enough ingredients to make 3 different cocktail recipes, developed by world-class mixologists. All you need to do is buy one bottle of that month's spirit, and you have all you need to make 12 drinks at home!

Our listeners can get $20 off their first box at shakerandspoon.com/toafn. That's shaker and spoon spelled out dot com slash T-O-A-F-N.

Also, if you want to help us make this show and get some cool rewards for yourself in the process, you can do that at patreon.com/onceandfuturenerd.

I want to specifically thank swordmother, Orlando, and Sara G for their patronage this month. So shout out to them, and to all of our generous Patrons whose support makes this show possible.

Part Four of this Chapter comes out on April 30th. This Chapter is a five-parter so we're not quite at the finale yet. But I will talk to you next month, and in the meantime - enjoy Part Three!
